

Learn 'The Art of Being Brilliant'

with Andy Cope

Tuesday 6 June 2017

1pm–4.30pm

Yarnfield Park, Staffordshire

Do you feel like your life is on permanent fast-forward? Are you crushed under the weight of restructures, budget cuts, uncertainty and rising expectations?

'The Art of Being Brilliant' provides the perfect antidote, using cutting edge research to explore how you can be you, brilliantly.

At this unique workshop you will:

- Learn the 'secrets' of positive psychology, applicable in and out of work.
- Be re-energised and enthused for the challenges that lie ahead.
- Exude positivity enabling you to make a difference at work and home.

Tickets: £95 + vat

To book your place please use the below link on our website.

<https://staffordshirechambers.co.uk/events/the-art-of-being-brilliant/>

Andy Cope is best-selling author of 'The Art of Being Brilliant', 'Be Brilliant Everyday' and 'The Art of Being a Brilliant Teenager', as well as the 'Spy Dog' series. 'The Art of Being Brilliant' workshop has been delivered to rave reviews all over the world.

